Highlights for the Fourth Quarter of 2010

Ministry of Forests, Lands and Natural Resources

The 4th Quarterly Compliance and Enforcement Summary for 2010 outlines 1 Order, 34 Administrative Sanctions, 554 Tickets and 7 Court Convictions for a combined total of over $130,350 in fines.

Notable highlights this Quarter:

Tyler Green and Donald Mowatt both entered guilty pleas at the Smithers Provincial Court and were each ordered to pay $3,000 to the Grizzly Bear Trust Fund (GBTF), as well as an additional $1,200 each in restitution to parties affected by their illegal activities. Green was charged with hunting without Limited Entry Hunt authorization, while Mowatt was charged with trafficking in dead wildlife parts in connection to the illegal killing and selling of grizzly bears in the Hazelton area.

The GBTF is administered by a Public Advisory Board appointed by the Minister of Environment to fund Grizzly Bear Conservation Strategy initiatives that are aimed at ensuring the continued existence of grizzly bears and their habitats in British Columbia for future generations. GBTF funding comes from enforcement fines (such as those recorded in the Quarterly Environmental Compliance and Enforcement Summary), direct donations and corporate sponsorship. This payment to the GBTF is a creative sentencing option that was chosen by the judge.

Five tickets were issued this quarter to battery carriers under section 10(3)(b) of the Environmental Management Act for failing to complete or file the proper manifests in the delivery of hazardous waste - used automotive batteries. Lead-acid batteries help to power or start cars trucks, buses, boats, trains, recreational vehicles, electric wheel chairs, golf carts, backup power supplies for lighting, computers and buildings. Lead is a toxic non-ferrous metal and must be managed in an environmentally friendly manner. In the early 1990s, local governments in BC identified scrap lead-acid batteries as an environmental hazard that posed a risk to human health.

ISSUED TO	LOCATION	ACT	REG.	SECTION	DESCRIPTION
Schaafsma, Douwe and Janice	Salmon Arm	Environmental Management Act	81		A Pollution Prevention Order was issued to the property owners after inspections revealed improper storage of dead livestock and associated material. The condition of the site has the potential for transmitting bovine spongiform encephalopathy (BSE) to vectors (i.e: birds, dogs, bears). The order requires the owners to: (1) immediately cease the deposit of additional red meat waste to the manure and bedding mix; and (2) immediately cease any application of the red meat waste, manure and bedding mix to the land.
